Click the Sign In button.

Enter the student's Username and Password, then click the Sign In button.

The image shows the Pearson Realize website interface. At the top right, there are 'Sign In' and 'Sign Up' buttons. A callout box points to the 'Sign In' button with the text 'Click the Sign In button.' Below the main banner, there is a 'Pearson Sign In' form with fields for 'Username' and 'Password', and a 'Sign In' button. A second callout box points to this 'Sign In' button with the text 'Enter the student's Username and Password, then click the Sign In button.'

From here, you can explore the Common Core Literature program.

Search bar: Find resources related to a specific language arts topic, such as "analyzing arguments."

Table of Contents: Go directly to a specific unit.

The image shows the Pearson Common Core Literature program interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text 'Search...'. A callout box points to the search bar with the text 'Search bar: Find resources related to a specific language arts topic, such as "analyzing arguments."' On the left side, there is a 'Table of Contents' section with a list of units and resources. A callout box points to this section with the text 'Table of Contents: Go directly to a specific unit.' The main content area displays 'PEARSON COMMON CORE Literature' over a background image of a sailboat on the water.

Reading selections include several interactive tools.

The screenshot shows the Pearson Literature platform. The main content area displays the title "Rikki-tikki-tavi" by Rudyard Kipling. Below the title, the beginning of the story is visible: "This is the story of the great war that Rikki-tikki-tavi fought, single-handed, through the bathrooms of the big bungalow in Segowlee cantonment. Darzee, the tailorbird bird, helped him, and Chuchundra (chōō chun' drə) the muskrat, who never comes out into the middle of the floor, but always creeps round by". The browser toolbar at the bottom of the page contains several icons for interactive tools: a highlighter, a notepad for notes, a bookmark, a glossary, and an audio player.
